Have you ever noticed how folks will pass up a brand new towel for any other that isn't sailed too much.

No woman is fit for the ballot who doesn't love her home; neither is a man, for that matter.

A barber may not be an artist, as a judge has ruled, but they make a lot of good looking men's faces.

A man should not be classed as prominent until he has declined to run for at least one office.

Always look for the best—the bad will happen soon enough.

In spite of the dry weather R. E. Fletcher one of our most progressive farmers has delivered to the Record several messes of nice roasting ears, the past two weeks, for which we are very thankful, and wish to congratulate Mr. Fletcher on his method of dry farming. We have also received water melons of Mr. Fletcher this season.

The Record is always glad to have specimens of the produce of the country and would be pleased to give space in a condensed form to publish what you are doing in farming, dairying, stockraising or whatever your avocation may be. Why be so selfish and hide your candle under a bushel? Come out and let others know what you are doing. Don't hide from the editor just because you owe for one or two years subscription. He loves you just the same. Come out with some of your produce if you can't conveniently get the cash and pay up your back dues and pay for a year in advance and let's start on a clean sheet. There was never a time when it was more needed or when there was a more heart felt appreciation.

NOTICE TO ENTRYMEN.

The Department has supplied the U. S. Land Offices with blank form 4-519B to be used when you wish to absent yourself under the provisions of the three year law. Also a blank form is used when you return to your claim.

This office is supplied with these blanks for your convenience, and if you are not convenient to some U. S. Commissioner, you can obtain a blank by writing to the U. S. Land Office.

When you leave your claim now for what is considered an absence it is necessary for you to file a notice of such absence with the U. S. Land Office.

Then it is just as necessary for you to file notice of your return to the claim.

The Lake Had a Bottom.

Cliff Aden, Paul Bear, Frank Crosson and Herbert Lowery went out to the Bottomless Lakes, Sunday. Crosson done the fishing and caught the "regulation" string. While the sole fisher was having his fun, Aden, Bear and Lowery had theirs by plying to the populace that one of the Bottomless Lakes really has a bottom, and that one is the lake just the other side of the "lone cottonwood." Aden and the bunch went with the intention taking along a wire and pulleys and a good strong line. They connected the wires from end to end, swam out and put the pulley in the middle, then took a ten-pound steel shaft and put it to the end of the line and from the bank sank it. It struck bottom at about 175 feet. They say they're going to see if the other lakes really do or do not have a bottom.—Roswell Morning News.

A HOME FOR CHILDREN.

Santa Fe, N. M., July 25, 1913. To the Public Mindful of those who need its help:

My predecessor, as Archbishop of the Santa Fe, was filled with the ambition to have constructed in this state an institution for the education of poor boys, especially the orphan and the neglected. The ambition has likewise moved me. Consequently I have set about the development of the purpose, but the enterprise is too large to be successfully promoted without outside help. Therefore, I confidently call upon the good people of New Mexico, without regard to race or creed, to come to my assistance in this worthy undertaking. The worthiness of the object is eloquent enough. Hence, my statement is plain. Consider the poverty of so many children of this land. Consider their aptitudes: what they can become as men and citizens, if they but have a helping hand held out to them. "He who gives to the poor, seedeth to the Lord." Argument, why those who can help should help, would be unworthy of me and them. The thing itself cries out aloud.

The institution will be a non-sectarian, although it will be under the general administration of the Franciscan Sisters, of Lafayette, Indiana, who come to New Mexico to devote themselves to this new and noble work.

Donations are absolutely necessary that the establishment shall be built and maintained. There should be in hand at the earliest possible moment as large a sum as may be secured. Its beginning will be modest. A fund of $50,000 would be an assurance of a successful foundation and the goodness of men and women will make it grow and be permanent.

Again I ask you to help me in this work. It is not my work alone; it is God's and yours.

Send to Rev. A. M. Mandalari, S. J. 609 S. Cooper Avenue, Albuquerque, N. M., or to Sister Generosa, O. F. M., Superior, 1724 W. Central Ave., Albuquerque, N. M., such contributions as you can make, but be freehanded and not ungenerous.

I appeal to you again for the welfare of those who cannot help themselves, now but who, with your help, can become substantial self-supporting, upstanding men and responsible worthy citizens of New Mexico.

J. B. PITAVALL,

Archbishop of Santa Fe.

Secretary Lane at Great Falls.

Great Falls, Mont., Aug. 4—Secretary Franklin S. Lane of the Interior Department arrived here this afternoon from Helena and will be the guest of the city until tomorrow morning. Mr. Lane is making a trip of inspection to study irrigation at first hand. His itinerary includes Montana and Washington cities for the purpose of hearing settlers' complaints. Beginning tomorrow he will go carefully over the Sun River irrigation project, spending as much time as is necessary in getting at real conditions there, with a view to determine whether to proceed with that project or to order its abandonment. Mr. Lane and party go to Fort Shaw tomorrow morning.

NEWS BUILDING BURNED.

In spite of the fact that by some unknown cause on last Thursday evening the News building and all its contents were devastated by fire, the publication of the paper will not cease. The fire originated in the paper room, according to reports from parties who first saw it, but thought it was a lighted lamp. The printing devices and all stock were entirely destroyed while the side wall of the building may be used again, though the end walls are worthless.

The building was valued at about two thousand dollars while the fixtures invoiced over two thousand six hundred dollars, with only two thousand eight hundred and fifty dollars insurance on the entire plant.

At the present time the paper will be published at Fortales until arrangements can be made for machinery to rebuild the plant which is hoped will be in the very near future.

All proof notices will receive the same careful attention and all parties having notices in the paper will receive a copy of the paper as heretofore.

In case your paper fails to reach you and you have paid for it, we will deem it a favor conferred if you will notify at once that you have failed to receive it and on the other hand if you are in arrears we would be glad to have your check covering the amount you are due—for we need the money.—Elida News.

Records recently compiled show that Germany has more members of trade unions than any other country. Great Britain comes second in the list and the United States is third.

Germany has more than sixty-five million people living in an area less than that of Texas, and only five times as great as that of Ohio, but, nevertheless, labor is so scarce in harvest time in many parts of the German empire that about thirty thousand farm "hands," as the Americans phrase it, go to Germany from Russia and Austria-Hungary every year to help gather the crops.

There's a fool born every second and a know-it-all twice that often.
